

Aviation & Airports

We have a dedicated group of lawyers, who have experience with major airlines and ground staff operators. Our team has an excellent understanding of the regulatory and commercial environment in the aviation and airport industry and are therefore able to provide sensible, pragmatic and creative advice.

We are able to supplement this core group with other lawyers specializing in areas including competition, tax, technology and employment, all of whom are familiar with, and understand, this particular sector

Clients

What we can do

We handle the full range of work required to support airlines, ground staff, air transport service providers, manufactures and other industry-related providers.

Public Law & Administration

Processing in-coming requests from state authorities in Spain and Portugal, advising clients in relation to the nature of such requests, including consumer inspections, drafting replies and retaliatory requests for information, and assisting with concessions, airline licensing, airline traffic rights, bilateral and multilateral conventions, aviation agreements and treaties, JAA/EASA regulations including aircraft-type certification and airworthiness requirements, competition and antitrust issues, etc. Advice and assistance on public tendering processes initiated by the Spanish and Portuguese authorities, as well as the private sector.

Corporate Matters

Advising on all aspects of establishing, running, developing, acquiring and funding corporate entities, including, mergers and acquisitions, fundraising, corporate structuring and restructuring and joint ventures. Advising in Intellectual & Industrial Property, and support on the defense of trademarks and intangible rights.

Commercial Matters

Advising clients on legal challenges raised on a daily basis, such as hiring all kind of services providers. Advising on advertisement campaigns, and cooperation with thirds parties in advertising and marketing issues.

Employment Matters

Advising clients on various legal aspects of employment relations with both local and foreign employees of the client's representative offices throughout Spain and Portugal. Management of relationships with the labor authorities, and assistance and advice on collective redundancies. Court representation in labor disputes.

Complaints and litigation

Designing strategies to avoid or minimize the escalation of complaints and disputes, and resolving the same as quickly and as inexpensively as possible. Processing all incoming customer claims, client representation in administrative and civil jurisdiction courts throughout Spain a Portugal, including, contractual disputes, aircraft repossession, product and manufacturer liability issues and aviation insurance.

Our commitments

We are committed to providing innovative legal advice and support of the highest quality, employing customized services developed to meet our clients' respective particular needs. We are focused on identifying and solving our client's problems with a commercial approach, which means more than just ensuring that the solution is legally correct. Our advice is always given in the context of the commercial priorities of the transaction or matter and always supports the client's business objectives. The combination of our lawyers' legal and business-related knowledge guarantees to our clients unquestionable commercial advantages